ACEIT eNews

This month check out a series of 8.1 tutorials, support alerts, and the current training class offerings!

Series of Basic Tutorials for 8.1

Are you new to ACEIT? Our latest Online Help articles are written for you! Through a series of 7 articles, we provide a basic tutorial on building an estimate in ACE 8.1. We show how to create a new session, enter estimating methodologies, perform what-if drills, view time-phased results, and document your estimate. Along the way we provide tips and notes to help you take advantage of all ACE has to offer. For those familiar with ACE, these articles provide a good refresher and highlight some newer features of the tool. With a quick scan you can pick up some details that might increase your productivity in ACE.

Support Alerts

On January 24th, the ACEIT Team released two Support Alerts regarding documentation in ACE 8.1 and 8.0.

Problem: Certain documentation is deleted from rows that are cut and/or copied into the same session. Note, the issue has different presentations in 8.1 and 8.0.

Please visit aceit.com/user-resources/support-alerts to see the detailed problem descriptions for both ACE versions.

Solutions:

- User Documentation \(8.1/8.0\): copy + paste or cut + paste session rows with one unique linked reference at a time.

- System Documentation \(8.1\): copy + paste session rows and then individually re-link each reference. We have not detected an issue with system documentation in ACE 8.0.
